

NEPAD: Building Africa's Future

This special edition of the United Nations magazine, Africa Renewal, presents for the first time for a wide audience, easy-to-read articles on the history, vision, goals and work of the New Partnership for Africa's Development (NEPAD), the continent's blueprint for development in the twenty-first century.

The publication is unique. With information not easily found elsewhere, it is a vital resource for anyone interested in Africa today. Its reporting of the history of NEPAD and stories of what is working (and what is not) will be helpful to politicians, policy makers, business advisers, investors, doctors and other professionals, community leaders, students, teachers and journalists, in Africa, in donor countries and in the countries of the South.

Please let us know if you would like to receive free copies of Building Africa's Future: the New Partnership for Africa's Development (in English or French).

The special edition highlights:

- the plan for a changing Africa
- building momentum for the NEPAD vision
- NEPAD working to improve African lives (food, water, internet, agriculture, education, energy and roads)
- states improve democracy and governance
- creating international partnerships

Also featured are stories of how women are getting involved in making the NEPAD vision a reality and how NEPAD is benefiting women throughout Africa.
